

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER

In the Wake of the News
By Ring W. Lardner.

The writer picked four winners in the two big leagues last Saturday. This gives him a percentage of .500. He went astray on the White Sox game in St. Louis, owing to Jones' failure to pitch Wellman, who would have won by a score of 4 to 0. He also missed the Cubs' game, owing to the west wind. His other failures were the Boston and Pittsburgh games in the National League, and were due to Moran's pitching Alexander out of turn, and Callahan's starting Marmar when he had a headache. As for the successful predictions, Detroit was selected to beat Cleveland, 6 to 4. The outcome of the game was 5 to 4 in Detroit's favor. Washington was picked to trim Boston 6 to 0. The actual score was 4 to 0 in favor of Washington. The difference of two runs is accounted for by Carrigan's failure to remove Foster after Washington had scored two in the seventh. Collins would have been the substitute and Washington would have made four runs off him in the eighth. As it was, Foster was let in and only two tallies were counted in the eighth.

The prediction had New York beating the Athletics 10 to 3. The result was 4 to 2 with New York the winner. Donovan evidently ordered the Yankees to save themselves for Monday.

Brooklyn was doped to beat the Giants 2 to 0. The real score was 5 to 4, and the game went twelve innings. If it had gone nine the prophecy might have been fulfilled.

It was predicted that it would be cloudy in St. Louis. It was. At least Mr. Sanborn did not say it wasn't.

It was foretold that the umpires at Detroit would guess right 263 times out of 284. Nothing in the dispatch from Detroit indicated that this was wrong.

It was prophesied that a fan on the north side would throw a cushion and hit a lady named Myrtle behind the left ear. This would have come to pass but for the fact that Myrtle's suit didn't get back from the London and New York dyers and cleaners and she had to stay at home.

It was said that third base would get loose in Boston and that Whitted would tie it back in place. A special dispatch from Boston which did not get into the papers tells us that this happened.

The Prophet remarked that New York would have the largest attendance. Read this from the New York story:

"...were defeated by Brooklyn 5 to 4 in twelve innings, before the largest crowd of the season."

The following were the predictions as to what players would star: Wellman, Veach, Johnson, Pipp, Williams, Groh, Daubert and Compton.

Wellman was kept on the bench. Jones did that purposely to embarrass the prophet.

Veach caught a fly ball and scored a run. If that isn't starring what is?

Johnson held Boston to four hits and only twenty-nine men faced him. As for Pipp, "New York won in the tenth on an error by Witt, Pipp's triple and Beckenbaugh's single."

Williams hit a home run and made two put outs.

Cincinnati scored one run against Pittsburgh, and the man who got it was Groh.

Daubert made four hits off the Giant pitchers.

Boston was held to two runs by Alexander. Compton scored both the runs and made a single and a double. What more can you ask?

WESLEYAN IS PROUD OF "GREASY" NEAL

And Well It Might Be for He is Making Wonderful Record in the National League.

BUCKHANNON, May 3.—Almost as much local interest is being shown in the debut of "Greasy" Neal, former Wesleyan all-around athlete, in the "big show" as is shown in the Wesleyan baseball season itself.

For some time Neal had been used for substitute base runner and pinch hitter for Cincinnati, but Friday he broke into the game as a regular against Pittsburgh and secured one hit out of three times up. On Saturday he got two blows, one of them a double, and almost won the game with a wicked drive in the seventh inning, but was thwarted by a phenomenal play by Hans Wagner. Sunday he was moved up to first place in the batting order, and got two hits and a sacrifice in five times up. In the three games as a regular Neal has hit at a .454 clip and that ought to keep him in the league for a while at least. His speed and ground covering have always been sufficient to make him a regular, but Herzog has been afraid of his hitting.

There seems to be no room for an argument on this point now, and "Greasy" will more than likely be a regular from this time forward. Neal played two full seasons and part of another with the Wesleyan baseball team and led the nine at hitting all through this period. Local fans have always believed that he was of big league calibre and are rejoicing that their beliefs have been confirmed.

SING SING NINE DEFEATED.

Daniel is an outfielder and one of the heaviest hitters on the Wesleyan team, which, by the way, is reputed to be extraordinarily strong with the willow this year.
